

Every voter in the county should turn out on November 2 and smash the slate. If each takes a little crack at it, it will crumble to pieces on that day.

Of course to hear Bill Mock talk he will carry the county by 50,000, but he won't. You must learn to discount what he says.

John C. Middleton lost two very valuable cows Wednesday morning. All candidates must file a campaign expense account within 15 days after the primary.

Bedford visitors desiring lodging next week can secure same by applying to the officers of the Bedford County Agricultural Association.

The Gazette will be issued one day earlier next week on account of the Fair. Correspondents will kindly send their letters by Monday evening.

Saturday is the last day to pay your tax in order to vote. Do it now. Pay your tax and vote against the slate, the worst this county has ever had.

Dr. I. P. Patch of Altoona will lecture in the Milligan's Cove Church Sunday morning at 10:30 and 2:30 at Buffalo Mills. The sermon will be in the interests of the Anti-Saloon League.

A baby girl arrived at the parsonage home of Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Loring of McConnellsburg last Saturday. Mr. Loring was pastor of the Wolfburg Methodist Episcopal Church a few years ago.

Thirty-five horses from West Virginia, Maryland, Ohio and Pennsylvania have been entered for the races at the Bedford Fair next week. The race committee expect the best racing ever held on the local track will be this year.

Ralph Amos of this place, who is an employe of the Altoona Tribune, is a patient in the hospital at that place, having undergone an operation for peritonitis last Saturday. The last report states that he is in a serious condition.

About twenty young folks were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Pate last Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Pate's sister, Miss Eunice Ballard, of Bristol, Penn. All enjoyed the music and games, as well as the dainty refreshments served.

W. C. Keyser of Schellsburg, cashier of the Schellsburg National Bank, sold to State College on Tuesday of last week 35 thoroughbred black Pole Angus and Hereford cattle. These cattle are to be used for show purposes this fall and next year. Mr. Keyser deserves the highest commendation for his enterprise in the cattle business and the people in that community may feel proud that they have in their midst one of such advanced judgment and business ability. It is likely that some of these cattle will be on exhibition at our own Fair October 5 to 9, where they may be seen.

The Bedford Fair Association is making arrangements to take care of the teams and automobiles, which promise to be the greatest in number this year than ever, without any charge. The teams and autos have access to the grounds and ample room with proper ushers will be provided free of charge. All come. Besides these conveniences, the Fair Association, through its Secretary, J. Roy Cessna, has arranged for a special train to leave Bedford, Thursday at 8 p. m. to Saxton, arriving at Saxton, 9:10. A special train will leave on the P. R. R. north toward Altoona at 6 p. m. These are very convenient arrangements and will be appreciated by the people. Remember no charge for teams or autos.

A Correction
In the obituary notice of Mrs. Harry Abbott, who died at Saxton, it was stated in The Gazette last week that she was survived by two daughters, one of whom was Mrs. George Gibson of Everett, which was an error. Mrs. Gibson's maiden name was Annie Leadman, and she made her home with Mrs. Abbott.

Arrangement For School Children's Parade, Moves 9:45 A. M.

On Wednesday, October 6, Bedford County is to receive from the United States Government, a new postoffice, fully equipped to serve the interests of all the people of this county and elsewhere. It is the county's Federal building and in this day of newspaper, magazine and quick dispatch, must be looked upon as one of the greatest factors in carrying education into the homes of our people.

The children should see the post-office inside and outside. After its dedication, only employees of the Government will be permitted to go into its secret chambers.

With this in view, the committee has decided to have as a feature of the dedication, a parade of the school children of Bedford County. A cordial invitation is extended to all the schools of Bedford County.

The Fair Association offers free admission to all children twelve years of age and under coming to Bedford on that day, and taking part in the parade. Also free admission to all school teachers who will accompany their respective schools and march in the parade. If school teachers will notify J. Every school should be headed by their directors and principals and school teachers, with the name of the school on a banner. The children to bring and carry a small American flag.

The parade will form at the Bedford railway station, led by the school board of directors of Bedford and Everett and the Boy Scout Band, followed by the principals and High Schools of Bedford and Everett, and move promptly at 9:45 a. m.

Communicate with committee for further information.

J. Roy Cessna,
Committee.

When Mr. and Mrs. Suder returned all did ample justice to the good things spread before them. After spending the day in social conversation the guests departed for their homes, wishing Mrs. Suder many more happy birthdays. She received a number of useful and handsome presents.

Mr. Dunn is a young man who graduated from Franklin and Marshall College and then took a post-graduate course in the Yale Divinity School where he won scholarship honors that took him to Europe to finish his course, where he was when the war broke out and interrupted his studies, and since that time has been in the Red Cross service in Paris.

Mr. Dunn has been back in America less than two weeks and The Brotherhood Class will be glad to have any of their friends visit with them Sunday morning at ten minutes of ten.

Successful Rally Day

The Rally Day services in St. John's Reformed Sunday School last Sunday excelled the highest hopes of the most optimistic. It was planned to reach the previous high water mark of 327. Not only was this accomplished but the actual attendance was 444. The offering was $41.80. Four quartettes, one from each of the four organized adult classes, delighted all by their singing. An orchestra added much to the occasion and E. Howard Blackburn in delivering the address of the hour brought a most helpful message. It was a "Red Letter Day" for St. John's. The figures below show how it was done:

Among the ladies who are active workers against women suffrage in New Jersey are Mrs. Grover Cleveland of Princeton, and Mrs. Garrett A. Hobart of Paterson, widow of Vice President Hobart.

Football Warriors Tear Up Turf

Last Saturday afternoon at Northside Park the Bedford High School team clashed in its initial game of the season with the local Y. M. C. A. boys, conquering by the score of 13-5. It was hard fought throughout and proved a most interesting game for the spectators, most of whom were High School students. While there were weaknesses evident on both sides, a few points of merit are worthy of mention. In defense, the Y. M. C. A. boys excelled, the ends being the stars at tackling. Burke's speedy headwork is an asset that should prove invaluable. Culp's spectacular playing promises great results in the near future. For the High School, the line, though very light, did excellent work. In this connection, Straub, England and Leasure were conspicuous. Mills, the husky center, is already quite an adept at handling the ball. In the back field, Melroy, Zorger, Rohm and Russell supported well their positions, and it is only natural to expect some stellar performances "pulled off" during the season by this quartette. Captain Eicholtz was unfortunate in having the ligaments in his right knee torn but it is hoped that the High School leader will be around in shape for the game at Huntingdon next Saturday.

A few trick formations at the beginning of the game netted touchdowns number one for the High School. We are glad to note that the High School boys have the hearty approval of the Board of Education and the Faculty. This, in addition to the support that should come from the townspeople, can make a winning team. The line-up was as follows:

Y. M. C. A.	Positions	B. H. S.
Boots	Center	Mills
Amos	Right Guard	Leasure
Pepple	Right Tackle	Hughes
Knigh	Right End	Straub
Sch	Left Guard	England
Price	Left End	Eicholtz
Burke	Quarter Back	Zorger
C. Leader	Right Half Back	Rohm
B. Leader	Full Back	Russell

Subs for High School in last quarter—Wagner and Hanks. Touchdowns—B. H. S. Russell, Zorger; Y. M. C. A., Culp. Goals—Russell. Quarters—10, 8, 10, 9. Referee—McMullin, Umpire—N. Horne. Head Lineman—G. Ritchey.

Suffrage Meetings Last Week

Suffragists are much pleased with the success of Mrs. Kiernan's automobile tour in the county last week. Roads were splendid; weather ideal, and audiences enthusiastic, attentive and generous.

It was found possible to reach Baker's Summit, Woodbury, Salemville, New Enterprise, Loysburg, Everett, Breesevood, Ray's Hill, Cessna, Fishertown, Springhouse, Pleasantville, Ryot, New Paris and Schellsburg. Not even the smallest hamlet was found without loyal and ardent supporters of the cause. Women left their work to go to the village store in front of which the gayly decorated car usually stopped, while men stopped their wagons or left the fields to listen for a few moments to Mrs. Kiernan's friendly talks.

It is impossible to obtain space to note the many friends who cooperated to make the tour a success, but we wish especially to mention Mrs. Dorsey Blackburn, J. W. Ridenour and Milton Sammel, the expert chauffeurs of the trip to whom its success was largely due.

We also wish to express our appreciation for the kindness of Mr. Slaughenhoupt in permitting Mrs. Kiernan to speak in front of his store in Bedford Thursday night, when a most unusual week-night crowd was gathered for the concert given during the Fall opening of this progressive store. Mrs. Kiernan spoke to probably the largest audience ever addressed here by a suffrage speaker. Committee.

Card of Thanks From Thomas F. Bailey, Candidate for President Judge

I desire, through the medium of the newspapers of this district to thank each one individually, of that large body of men, who voted for me at the primary election, in spite of strong appeals on behalf of the candidate presumably pledged to a certain course of action, and in spite of efforts to invoke blind partisanship. It is apparent that the thinking men of the dominant Republican party have adopted the spirit of their own Act of Assembly, in declaring the judgeship to be non partisan, and have resolved to place this contest upon a plane where each man shall stand according to his merit, and where the battle will be free, open and fair.

I desire to ask for the continued support of those who voted for me, and to appeal to all others, who, while they have hitherto not supported me, yet believe in the administration of the law as I have declared it before the recent primary campaign, and who believe that in the liquor question the majority in character and in number should rule, but who do not believe in an illegal and unfair pledge.

THOS. F. BAILEY.

Some persons seem to like peaches which are gathered in the night, as a number of peach growers have been missing quite a quantity which disappeared at night, and since the peaches are getting scarce, one of our neighbors was short a couple loaves of bread and some smoking tobacco one morning when they took an inventory of those "stuffs of life." Lee Furry has been on the sick list for several days.

The following persons of this vicinity took advantage of the cheap rates to Niagara Falls recently: D. B. Teeter, Warren Burkett, N. R. Stiller, Guy Campbell, W. A. King, wife and son Lloyd, C. E. Catarrh Germs Easily Killed

By Breathing Into Throat, Nose and Lungs a Pure Antiseptic Air.

If you have catarrh and want to get rid of it you must kill the germs which cause the disease.

The best known way of destroying Catarrh germs is to breathe into the air passages of your nose and throat and lungs the pleasant, penetrating air of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me). Hyomei is made from purest oil of Eucalyptus combined with other powerful, healing, antiseptic and germicidal ingredients. You breathe it through a little pocket inhaler which F. W. Jordan, Jr., and other leading druggists in Bedford and vicinity are furnishing with every complete treatment sold. Every time you inhale the sweet, fragrant air of Hyomei through this little device you are drawing into your swollen, inflamed, germ laden membranes a medicated air which will not only reduce all the swelling and inflammation and open your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages, but will absolutely and positively destroy every trace of Catarrh germ life it reaches. Druggists are so sure of the blessed, lasting relief that Hyomei brings to catarrh sufferers that they sell it invariably on the positive guarantee that money paid will be refunded if successful results are not secured from its use.—Adv.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Interesting Notes From Our Correspondent at National Capital.

Washington, D. C., September 28.—The veterans of the Civil War, organized in the Grand Army of the Republic, are in Washington by the thousands to participate in the celebration of the review 50 years ago of the greatest army that the world had known at that time. In their formal parade they retraced the steps of that historic march when Grant stood beside President Johnson and saluted them, while General Sherman led them from the Capitol to the corner of the Treasury building, where his equestrian monument now stands to give them inspiration.

President Wilson welcomed the veterans on the first day of their reunion. Lieut. Col. David J. Palmer, commander-in-chief, and his staff, were received at the White House, where the President gave them a cordial greeting.

The old soldiers fraternized upon the gayly decked and illuminated streets with survivors of the Confederacy, many of whom came by special invitation to join in the celebration of fifty years of American peace. At the headquarters of the Union veterans the men in gray were extended the hand of welcome, but in the parade only Grand Army men were allowed to participate.

A surprising feature of the reunion was a large number of veterans that came from a distance. Hundreds of them came from California, Washington, Oregon, Montana, and other States west of the Mississippi. There are 46 departments of the Grand Army of the Republic. With four exceptions each department represents a single State, Georgia and South Carolina are joined together in one department, as are also Louisiana and Mississippi, California and Wyoming, and Washington and Alaska.

The country's pride in the Grand Army is not alone restricted to the old soldiers, but extends to the great army of nearly 200,000 wives, sisters and daughters and granddaughters of the brave soldiers, of whom about 20,000 are attending the encampment. They constitute as fine a body of representative womanhood as ever glorified a nation.

Among the features of the week's exercises is the fleet of United States war vessels anchored in the Potomac River, off the Washington navy yard. Several hundred people who patronized private launches to be carried to the vessels were left stranded aboard the ships when the launch failed to return to shore.

This week is the first of the fall-buying season, which was notably announced by the blowing of whistles and blaring of horns, 10,000 toy balloons each bearing an order for goods on local shops were carried upward and came down again like a rain of plenty on the heads of office-goers and visitors in the city. The project, which was fostered by the Washington Retail Merchants' Association, had enlisted the interest of nearly every merchantile establishment in the city. For the most striking of the beautifully decorated shop windows handsome prizes in the form of cups were awarded.

Military and civil authorities are conducting a rigid investigation to determine the origin of the four recent fires that have occurred at the Washington barracks. It is believed by the commander of the post that these disastrous fires were started by an incendiary, and startling disclosures are expected to be made within a few days, according to the belief of the police officials. More than $30,000 damage was done by the fires. The discharge of a three-inch gun on the post reservation to summon the soldiers to the fires made a loud report as to awaken persons living on the opposite side of the Potomac River.

It is not at all likely that proceedings will be undertaken against James F. J. Archibald by the United States authorities. Archibald is the Washington war correspondent who was arrested by British agents at Falmouth for carrying German and Austro-Hungarian documents while traveling on an American passport. Very probably he will be permitted to come to Washington to make a full explanation to the State Department of his conduct.

Dr. Constantin Dumba, Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to the United States, will be formally recalled by his government, according to assurances given American Ambassador Penfield at the Vienna foreign office. But until formal notification of Dr. Dumba's recall has been received, the State Department officials will make no announcement. They are ready, however, to hurry negotiations for the safe conduct of Dr. Dumba the moment satisfactory word arrives from Vienna. The British and French embassies have assured the State Department that Mme. Dumba, the Ambassador's wife, could proceed to Vienna without fear of interference, a safe conduct being superfluous in the case of a non-combatant.

The Navy Department has been informed that in a series of engagements between American marines and Haitian insurgents a non-commissioned officer was killed and ten marines wounded, while fifty-two of the Haitian rebels were killed. Officials of this government said that there is no real comparison between the intervention, now a fact in Haiti, and the intervention which has been proposed to settle the affairs of Mexico. It was admitted by an official close to the President that the alternative of European intervention obliged the United States to act by force in Haiti. The French, in fact, landed marines and took control, but withdrew when a sufficient American force arrived.

The fourteen victims of the F-4, the submarine lost at Honolulu last March, were buried at Arlington National Cemetery with full military honors. Secretary Daniels and other high officials participated in the ceremonies. The bodies were escorted from the Washington Navy Yard to Arlington Cemetery by a column composed of all the regular troops and blue jackets in the neighborhood of Washington.

The Vice President and Mrs. Marshall have been in Washington for a short stay, to outline their plans for the coming winter. They expect to spend the coming year at the New Willard Hotel, where they will resume the receptions which were such a marked pleasure of the first winter of the Wilson administration. Both Mr. and Mrs. Marshall are in splendid health and spirits, after their long vacation rest from official cares and social responsibilities, but are as keen as ever in their intention of taking up their official and social duties again.

The Vice President called upon President Wilson and told him of his trip through the West where he had observed sentiment, political and otherwise, with a close eye. He told the President about crops, business and politics, and the President enjoyed immensely the conversation of the bland presiding officer of the Senate.

One day last week President Wilson walked through the shopping district, his object being to purchase some golf balls. He went to a sporting goods store and laid in a supply of balls. He was unaccompanied except by a secret service officer. Report of the President crossed Pennsylvania Avenue at 5th Street. A street car had stopped, and as the President started to cross in front of it the conductor gave two bells to start again. The President heard the bells and stepped nimbly across. He was not recognized by motorman or conductor.

A number of the Justices of the United States Supreme Court have returned from their vacations, among them being the Chief Justice and Mrs. White, who passed the summer at the Adirondacks.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE TOP COAT

For Dress It Is Developed In Velours de Laine and Velvet, For Sports In Leather, Tweed and Novelty Fabrics

FUR A FAVORED TRIMMING

New York, September 29.

Early in the season when Paris placed her stamp of approval on the frock of taffeta, and then a little later adopted the one-piece frock of serge and gabardine, on Princess and semi-Princess lines, for almost every occasion, a demand was straightway created for the separate coat. Designers are now giving much of their attention to this important garment.

A Season of Separate Coats

It is essentially a season of separate coats. At any public gathering the predominance of the one-piece dress with its accompanying coat is very noticeable. Princess and semi-Princess frocks of serge or gabardine, braid trimmed, and rather severe, are preferred for mornings; to wear with these frocks Paris has given us an all-enveloping coat, also of serge or gabardine, called the coat dress. Then there are many other models on the Redingote share of attention. Some flare, some are made gauntlet fashion, some are cut to fit the forearm snugly from elbow to wrist, where they flare slightly, and others are merely straight bands of the same, or a contrasting material.

Sleeves on both coats and frocks are varied most attractively, the models being taken from a number of different clothes periods.

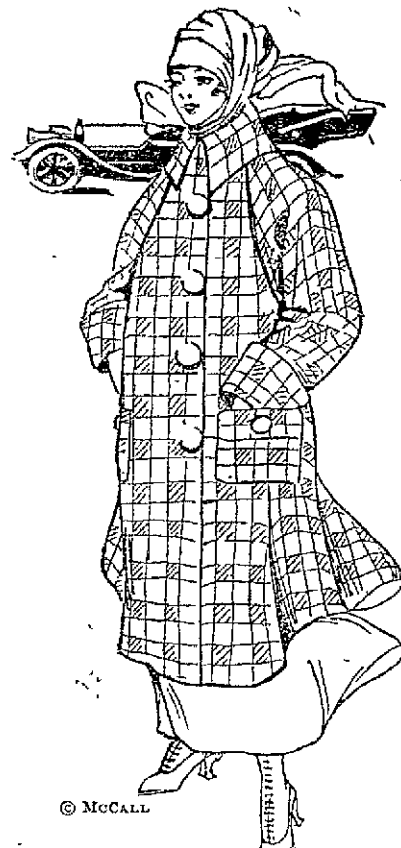

Coats for Sports

Paquin introduced at her recent showing, a coat of suede; at a tennis match some weeks ago, a duplicate of this same coat was worn, with matchless spats, hat band, and girdle of the suede. It is an unusual fad, but one that is practical for motoring and all out-of-doors amusements. Stripes, checks, and rather vivid plaids are popular for the sport coat as well as the various attractive tweed mixtures. One smart motor coat of plaid, in a subdued tone of gray, noted at the tennis games, was trimmed with emerald green suede, collar, wide belt, and cuffs. The effect was unusual and extremely effective. Leather is a trimming detail of many coats this fall.

The huge motor coat of warmly colored plaid, heavy curly cloth, rough tweed, and various other warm, light-weight fabrics, is often collared, cuffed, and belted in suede or kid, in a plain, contrasting color. Leather buttons, too, are being used, and seam pipings of leather.

The Belted Norfolk

For the girl who golfs, walks, and enjoys the great out-of-doors, no coat is more satisfactory than the Norfolk. It lends itself well to almost any material. In tweed, it is smart and substantial looking; in stripes, plaids, and novelty mixtures, order, with revers extending from collar to hem; one or two designs showing the Louis XIVth influence, and the 1870 period, with slender, fitted backs and waists, and full circular, flaring basques.

Frocks of taffeta and faille are accompanied by harmonizing coats of velours de laine, velvet, or plush, cut Redingote fashion, or on short, tight-fitting lines. Velvet is one of the smartest coat materials of the season. On the Avenue, and in the tea rooms every afternoon, one may see any number of smart little frocks of taffeta or faille, with short, full skirts, and harmonizing small coats, or basques of velvet or plush. Some of these chic velvet basques, fitting snugly over the bust, curving at the waistline, button from the top of the high choker collar to the pointed lower edge, often forming pannier-like draperies over the hips. There is no material richer or more becoming than velvet.

The Russian Influence

In the more dressy coats, one notices a decided leaning toward the Russian. There is something smart and youthful about the double-breasted, high collared Russian coat, with its trimming of fur which makes it appeal to many. These models are made in various lengths, according to the purpose for which they are intended. One of the smartest coats of the season was developed in Petrograd green velours de laine, on Russian lines, collared, cuffed, and banded around the lower edge with beaver. Large crocheted buttons of antique gold cord closed the coat and finished the wide girdle of green velours. A smart little turban of the beaver completed a most attractive ensemble.

The Collar Makes the Coat

It appears as if all the designers' ingenuity has been centered on the collar of the coat. There are wide cape collars, Chin-Chin collars, Quaker collars, wide crush collars, "A" collars, collars dating from the time of Incroyables, high Directorate collars, and many others. Often these are of fur, one of the short haired pelts, preferably, beaver, nutria, seal, or krimmer; and then again they are of the material of the coat, elaborately trimmed with braid embroidery, or a smartly worked-out design in Angora wool. This latter is a very new and effective touch brought out at the early Paris openings. Cuffs, too, come in for their

it is equally becoming and effective; while in plain, hard-finish serge, it is trim and tailored looking, a good model for the business girl. It is youthful, and suited to many types. No coat model is more satisfactory for the woman or girl who makes her own clothes, as it is comparatively easy to fashion.

A Word on Fur Fabrics

While these fabrics have been used for coats and wraps for a season or two, they have never reached the perfection that they have this winter. At a showing of coats and wraps at the Ritz, a short time ago, these fur cloths were used exclusively. There were baby-lamb cloths, caracul cloths, monkey skin, and any number of others bearing the manufacturers' trade names. These materials are especially well suited to evening wraps, and the more dressy day coats. They are warm, light of weight, richly colored, and generally satisfactory.

These fabrics are attractive, too, for trimmings, collars, cuffs, and trimming bands, on coats of other materials. An African brown baby-lamb cloth is especially beautiful for the last mentioned use.

ELBERT BEDE SAYS

Talk is cheap—so why not speak a kindly word now and then. Some folks are just naturally crazy and with others it is a case of too much baseball.

No one likes to hear a man continually brag about what he has done, but he is way ahead of the man who brags of what he is going to do.

A person of whom it is said that he has ability but doesn't use it, has more to be ashamed of than the person of whom it is said that he is a natural dunce.

A method has been perfected for making from certain parts of the human body an ink that is absolutely fadeless and unaffected by acids. That's a new way for some people to make a mark.

Vice President Marshall has been threatened with death a half dozen times within a very short time. It took something of this sort to bring us to a realization of the fact that our Vice President is alive.

There is considerable talk about girls being better students than boys and many more girls than boys, completing high school. If figures were available, however, it probably would be found that despite their small number more boys than girls are making use of their education.

A country correspondent describing the clothes at a wedding, finishes by saying: "The groom wore his usual smile." In the interest of modesty we trust that it was one of the kind that wouldn't come off and we wish to remark further that if the correspondent told the literal truth about the groom's smile, it would not get the same effect.

The groom's smile was so good that they pay to have it on a platter.

There is a girl in the city who is a preacher, or tell me if you can find the same audiences would consider it almost a crime to put more than five cents on the platter to hear the same preacher in church.

Humility is all right for the other fellow to have.

All cats imagine they can sing—and in that respect they are like men.

A girl's castle in the air is sometimes built of bricks of ice cream.

It is easy to fool a woman—if it wasn't, how would the men get married?

If you can't laugh at the story your friend has told, at least don't say, "Well, I heard it this way."

A woman may marry a man for his money and then find that she is getting less than the minimum wage.

Probably more than half the people in the world will be more diligently on the other fellow's row than on their own.

No matter how angelic a man may appear before marriage, after the wedding the wife will learn that a man's a man for a' that.

When you attempt to throw dust in the other fellow's eyes, be sure that the wind is in the right direction, lest it blow back and blind you instead.

Some of these people are so old that they have been married more times than they have been single.

There is a woman not having birthday anniversaries after she passes 25. He knows that he has to buy a present for her every year just the same.

A tablet supposed to have been engraved a thousand years before the writing of the book of Genesis, has been unearthed and translated. The translator claims (and few will dispute him) that the book says that it was Noah and not Eve who plucked the forbidden fruit. That's about the way it usually turns out when man tries to blame anything of this sort onto woman.

He goes out to the ball park just because he loves the game. And if the home team loses he enjoys it just the same. He never goes "plum nutty" and raves and tears his hair. He's always for the umpire and declares that it was fair. He never comes home tired and hoarse with murder in his eye, because the home team had a chance and somehow passed it by. And all the boneheads that they make he's willing to forget. Who is he? Well we must confess we've never seen him yet.

BRUMBAUGH DEFEATED EVERYWHERE IN PENNSYLVANIA BY THE PENROSE GANG

Penrose in the Saddle in Every County, Crooked Politics and Use of Trading and Improper Methods Prevailed.

Everywhere in every county in Pennsylvania the Penrose gang dealt a death blow to the Brumbaugh forces and made it more evident that to put his policies into law, Governor Brumbaugh will have to break away from the forces which boosted him to the Governor's chair and paddle in a stream to himself.

The greatest contest against the policies and recommendations of the Governor was in Allegheny County, where Dennie O'Neal was defeated by 5,000 votes by a true blue dyed in the wool Penrose leech. They resorted to all kinds of crookedness, as counting ballots that were improperly marked, stuffing boxes, etc., but they won by those methods as they have won for years. O'Neal ran on an Anti-Penrose platform and had the united support of Governor Brumbaugh, Governor Brumbaugh and his friends ought to see by this time the futility of following any organization tinged with Penrose methods. You cannot reform them by hobnobbing with them. The thing to do is to get on the outside and batter down their breastworks.

In Bedford County the Penrose crowd centered on a slated ticket headed by Harry C. James, Chairman of the party and candidate for District Attorney. The Reynolds crowd pulled off one of their old time political tricks by deserting their candidate, Kennell, in the eleventh hour, and swinging the Joe. Imbler crowd to Charlie Longenecker. To weaken the forces in the eastern side of the county a dark horse was sprung in the waning days of the campaign, and worked to a charm, defeating Eichelberger, Clapper and Boiger. No primary ever saw such complete manipulation of gang rule and slated candidates in Republican ranks as this. The whole ticket is west of the Narrows at Everett, not a candidate having any show except Bradley at Saxton and he was the slated candidate of the Penrose forces and has been for years or his head would have come off too. Mann, Southampton, Monroe, East Providence, West Providence, Hopewell Township and Borough, Broad Top nor Liberty has a candidate to support. Are the good Republicans going to stand up and allow this gang to cram down their gullets such dope as that? More than that there is a deal to place the nomination for Treasurer on the Republican ticket in four years out at Osterburg. The gang needed votes for Longenecker and that is the only way they could get them. They figured that if they could Joe. Imbler's strength, Longenecker could win and he did. The deal was pulled off by the Reynolds crowd the same as the Everett desertion was manipulated.

Know Paint

There's a paint-education in this advertisement.

Buy by the job, not gallon. Buy by the paint put-on; that's the job.

The price of paint is so much a gallon; that can't be helped, but amounts to nothing.

The price of painting is so much a day; that can't be helped, but amounts to nothing.

Put them together. How can you do it? You've got to or lose perhaps half of your money.

Devoe, 10 gallons enough for the average job; an average paint, 15. Now reckon your costs. Count labor a day for a gallon. Devoe 10 days; the other 15.

Devoe about $50; the average paint about $70 or $80; the dearer the labor the bigger the difference, always that way.

But that's for the job. How long is it going to last? One twice as long as the other.

For Manly Men

We have purposely made up a tobacco to appeal to the strong, vigorous man who wants full flavor and fragrance combined with honest sweetness in his smoke or chew. This tobacco is FIVE BROTHERS. It is designed especially to satisfy the tobacco-hungry man. It fills the bill.

Firemen, policemen, out-of-doors men, two-fisted men in general, all say FIVE BROTHERS satisfies. Once they start using FIVE BROTHERS they cannot get the same satisfaction out of any other brand.

FIVE BROTHERS

Pipe Smoking Tobacco

has character to it. That's why it appeals to and pleases these men of sturdy character.

FIVE BROTHERS is made from pure Southern Kentucky leaf, aged for three to five years, so as to bring out slowly and naturally all the juicy mellowness and richness of the tobacco. That's why its quality never varies—and that's why hurried-up, hashed-up tobaccos can't compare with FIVE BROTHERS.

In strenuous hours of work or in pleasant hours of relaxation, be sure to have some of this wonderful tobacco with you.

FIVE BROTHERS is sold everywhere—get a package today.

First Dose Ends Indigestion, Heartburn, or Gas on Stomach

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking Tonaline Tabs.

People with weak stomachs should take Tonaline Tablets occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas on stomach, or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or sick stomach, and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking Tonaline Tablets.

Go to your druggist and get a $1 box of Tonaline Tablets and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. Tonaline Tabs freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

Tonaline Tablets cost $1.00 for a 50 days' treatment. At druggists or mailed by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.—Adv.—10 Sept. 4t.

American Magazine

In the October American Magazine Olive Higgins Prouty begins a new serial novel entitled "The Fifth Wheel." It is the story of the revolt of Ruth Vars, a New England girl of good family, who tired of the conventional prospect before the ordinary woman and decided to break loose and live her own life. This is the story of her personal and business adventures. Stanley Johnson gives the second installment of his series, "Youth Leads the Way." More fiction is contributed by a number of noted writers. John M. Silldall contributes an editorial entitled "How the World Empties and Fills."

Ray Stannard Baker tells why he is in favor of Woman Suffrage. The regular departments—Interesting People and The Family's Money—are filled with good reading and good ideas. The prize winning letters in the contest entitled "The Jew" complete a number of rare interest and freshness.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May Be Investigated—Testimony of Bedford Citizens.

When a Bedford citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Bedford resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

W. H. Weyant, grocer, 243 W. Pitt St., Bedford, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are not a new remedy to me. I have used them off and on for a number of years and wouldn't be without them. I have to be on my feet a great deal and also do heavy lifting and at times this brings on backache and other kidney ailments. A few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills always drives the attacks away."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Weyant had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 24 Sept. 2t. Advertisement.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 3

ELIJAH IN NABOTH'S VINEYARD.

LESSON TEXT—I Kings 21:1-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be sure your sin will find you out.—Num. 32:23.

Ahab disobeyed God and failed to follow up his victory over Ben-Hadad (ch. 20:31-34). Thereupon one of the prophets resorted to a plan whereby Ahab was rebuked and also received a message that sent him "to his house heavy and displeased" (v. 43). All of this needs to be borne in mind when we study Ahab's course of action related in this lesson. Learn by heart the tenth commandment; also Luke 12:15.

I. The Schemes of Men, vv. 11-16. Ahab had been king for twenty years (B. C. 906?). Jezreel was his summer capital, about twenty miles northwest of Samaria. The chief actors in this tragedy were Naboth, a well-to-do citizen; Ahab, a petulant monarch to whom Naboth refuses to sell his vineyard; Jezebel, the Lady Macbeth of Ahab's court; elders and nobles of Jezreel, willing tools in the transaction; false witnesses, executioner, and Elijah, the servant of God, who confronted the monarch in his newly gained possession. Ahab was constantly in conflict with the purposes of God and with his Word. Naboth had no right to sell his vineyard (see Numbers 36:7; Lev. 25:23; also Ezek. 46:16) and sturdily stood out for his God-given rights. These land laws were rigid, but at the same time wise and beneficial. Instead of yielding to God's law Ahab stalks like a petted child (v. 4) and thus again runs counter to God's Word (see tenth commandment). At this juncture Jezebel, his wife, appeals to his pride and power as the king (v. 7), and offers to procure the coveted possession. The methods of mankind whereby vast possessions are accumulated do not always bear investigation; murder and rapine, broken hearts and shortened lives, weakened bodies and stunted children can largely be traced to the sin or covetousness, against which we all need to be on guard (Luke 12:15; Eph. 5:5). The first sinner was covetous (Gen. 3:6), so also were the chosen people of God (Josh. 7:21), and it was this that caused the first dissension among Christian believers (Acts 5:1-3). Jezebel most graciously gave Ahab that which belonged to others; how free we all can be with the property of others! She also cloaked her designs with the mantle of religion (8-13).

II. The Sentence of God, vv. 17-20. The dead Naboth was happier than his neighbors of Jezreel, the king and queen or any of the other evil participants. Ahab began by breaking the first commandment (I Kings 16:31; Deut. 5:7) and thus laid the groundwork of the whole train of evil for which he and his household and his reign are famous. The elders readily obeyed the word of Jezebel and Ahab profited thereby, but now he was to hear the Word of God and it was not to be so welcome. Recently we saw Elijah set aside, following his flight from Jezebel, but he is not entirely beyond use and God now gave him a new commission, one more task in connection with his old opponent. There is nothing indicating cowardice in Elijah's bold challenge of Ahab and there is also a suggestion of a guilty conscience in Ahab's exclamation, "Hast thou found me, O mine enemy" (v. 20)? Ahab had "gone down to the vineyard of Naboth" (v. 16) to enjoy the pleasure of possessing his ill-gotten treasure only to hear again his word of doom (ch. 20:42; 21:19). It was a poor exchange Ahab made (Mark 8:37), a throne and his life in exchange for the carrying out of his own will and the possession of a vineyard. In that exact spot where Naboth had been foully stoned the dogs would lick up the blood of the king. As is usually the case, the guilty sinner called the righteous servant of God his "enemy," yet had Ahab obeyed the Word of Jehovah as so frequently spoken by Elijah he would have discovered him to be his true and best friend, not his enemy. Ahab's sin had found him out (Golden Text, Num. 32:23).

III. The Summary. Covetousness is not the mere desire for things we do not possess, but a deep longing which is willing to do wrong, to injure others, to profit by the evil deeds of others in order to come into possession. Covetousness seeks to gain at the expense of higher and better things; it is the extreme opposite of the spirit of him who "gave all."

The greatest danger of our land and the chief source of sin is covetousness. The source and fountain of covetousness is selfishness. Hence the one and only cure is in a changed heart, one consecrated to God and devoted to the service of others.

Love God, obey his Word, strive with all our ransomed powers to build up and advance his kingdom and covetousness will vanish as mist before the summer sun.

Covetousness is insatiable, it is never satisfied.

It is like the drug habit, it grows by leaps and bounds.

It is idolatry, effectually shutting us out of the kingdom.

MIDNIGHT OIL

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, M. D.

Our barnyards have not yet had electric lights installed so the domestic animals still go to bed at dark.

In these days when every village boasts its electric light plant and the streets of even our smaller municipalities are ablaze with light, night is for all practical purposes as light as day and the primitive instinct to seek shelter and repose with the falling darkness has been lost to civilized mankind.

The modern tendency seems to be to shorten the hours of work and extend the hours of play into those that in the cosmic scheme of things were intended by Nature for rest. While there is little truth in the old saying that "an hour's rest before midnight is worth two thereafter," the danger is that extending pleasure and entertainment to late hours of the night breeds an irregularity of habit which is not conducive to good health. Late frolics after a day's work are apt to lead to unusual exhaustion for which the ordinary allotment of sleep will not compensate.

Fortunately the majority of us in this world have a considerable amount of work to do each day. If we keep late hours at night the tendency is to expend our energy on pleasure instead of the real business of life.

Daylight is the best time for physical work or brain work. The early morning hours beat the midnight oil game for the student and scholar. The great majority of authors do their work in the morning.

Poor Richard says that he who riseth late hours no matter how brightly illuminated are a poor exchange for those of the early morning.
